Personal Informations & background

I am a student passionate about software development, especially Flutter. Despite the challenges of my field, I consistently balance my studies with personal projects, self-learning, and content creation, ensuring I grow both academically and professionally. I have explored mobile app development and plan to start freelancing this year to gain real-world experience. I am highly self-motivated, adaptable, and committed to continuous learning, with a strong problem-solving mindset.

Education

2023 - Current
University Of Batna 2

Bachelors Degree In CS Engineering
Gaining strong programming and problem-solving skills while applying my knowledge through projects and continuous learning.

What Makes Me Stand Out

Passionate about learning & self-improvement

• I actively push myself to grow in mobile and web development.

Balancing academics & personal growth

Managing studies while working on projects, learning Flutter, and planning to freelance

Never letting stress stop me

Even with a tough major, I keep up with everything without failing any classes
